A Two Day's Battle—Armies Meet at Kai Cheng—Conflicting Stories of the Result—Pom-K-Soh is Called Home to the Hermit Kingdom—Say Russia May Help Japan.

TOKIO, Sept. 14.—The emperor left today for the general headquarters of the Japanese army.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14.—Two thousand buildings were burned in Sung Ken last night. Over one hundred lives were lost. The loss is twelve million dollars.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14.—Rumors have reached here that a battle has been fought between the Chinese and Japanese near Kai Cheng, Korea. The engagement is said to have taken place about Sept. 2. Native newspapers of Sept. 10 say that the fight lasted two days and that it was still undecided when this news was forwarded to the native press.

The Chinese papers of Sept. 12 announce that Gen. Yeh, the Chinese commander, reports having gained a victory over the Japanese. It is supposed here, however, that the Chinese have met with a reverse at Ping Yang. A private dispatch confirms the news that more fighting has occurred with undecided results.

The floods in Korea still prevent the Chinese troops from crossing the Imchin river in order to attack the Japanese entrenchments. Another report current here says that the Kirin division of the Chinese army has crossed the Kulin river and that it is now holding the city of Suhning, while awaiting the advance of the main body of the army before attacking the Japanese right flank. No reliable news, it may be added, is obtainable here in regard to the progress of the war.

The Hupao reports that the Chinese admiralty has determined to order to Pei Yang from the Yang Tse coast all war ships of a certain tonnage and armament. The Hupao adds that a number of torpedo boats from the squadrons at Foo Chow, Canton and Nanking will also be ordered to Pei Yang.

The intriguing enemies of Viceroy Li Hung Chang have reported to the throne the presence of Tien Tsin of Chang Pei Lun, the viceroy's son-in-law, who was banished in 1884. The throne has ordered his return to exile.

Says Russia May Aid Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 14.—Pom-K-Soh, a young nobleman of Corea, who for eight years has been exiled from his country, is in the city, en route to his home at the request of the king of Corea, who desires his counsel and good offices during the war. Pom-K-Soh had had many thrilling experiences. He has been over thirty times sentenced to death. Kim Ok Kinn, with whom he fled to Japan originally, was murdered by hired assassins sent from Corea. Pom-K-Soh was attached to the Korean embassy in Washington in 1884. A year later his party was overthrown and he was recalled with Kinn.

LOOK INTO REBATES.

Interstate Commissioners Investigate Charges Against Atkinson.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The interstate commerce commission has an inquiry on foot regarding the disclosures of rebates by the Atchison railroad. It is in connection with Mr. Little the expert accountant, who went over the books of the company for the stockholders. It has not yet been determined whether this is a case that calls for the interposition of the commission. If it is decided that it is, whatever evidence can be called will be transmitted to the attorney general. Proceeding for violation of the law have to be left to district attorneys.

The commission has not begun work on its annual report, but it will be commenced upon Commissioner Morrison's return.

Bookmakers Oppose Breckinridge.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14.—The bookmakers at the race tracks on the east side of the river who claim Kentucky as their native state and the Ashland district as their home have arranged to take part in the congressional campaign low on there in opposition to Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge. A party of fifteen, including W. H. Chappin, P. H. T. M. and T. C. Newman, John Oberland, J. N. Little, Richard Dehoney and John Weitzel, will leave here to-morrow to attend the primaries next Monday and to use the time at their disposal as well as their influence against Breckinridge.

Hot After the Kid.

PHOENIX, A. T., Sept. 14.—The murder of Horace Philley, near Reno mountain one week ago, has been found to be the work of the famous Apache renegade, the Kid. Sheriff Thompson, of Gila county, is now hard on the Kid's track with a strong posse of cowboys and ranchmen and has so spread his forces that the killing or capture of the Apache murderer seems probable.

DEBS WILL BE CALLED.

Government Wants Him and the Other Defendants to Testify.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Counsel for the government in the Debs contempt case will call all the defendants to the witness stand and interrogate them as to the part they took in the strike and what they did with regard to the injunction and its alleged violation. This intention was made manifest at the opening of proceedings yesterday. As soon as Judge Woods had taken his seat Mr. Walker, of counsel for the government, arose and said:

"We shall ask the defense, your honor, to produce Mr. Debs here as a witness for the government."

"We shall decline to produce Mr. Debs; he is a defendant in this hearing," replied Mr. Erwin.

"Mr. Debs is out of the city and it would be impossible to produce him now," said Judge Woods.

Mr. Walker proceeded to inform the court why he desired Mr. Debs' presence on the witness stand. He read from the Railway Times, the official organ of the American Railway Union, an appeal to organized labor printed in that paper and signed by Debs, in which workmen were asked to sustain the American Railway Union, and Mr. Walker said he desired to cross-examine Mr. Debs as to that manifesto. Other articles from the Railway Times, telling of the work of Debs, Rogers, Keliher and Howard were read. Judge Woods made no ruling on Mr. Walker's motion that Debs be produced.

The government rested its case late in the afternoon, and Mr. Bancroft, counsel for the Santa Fe, called a number of witnesses. They all said they had quit work through intimidation and had no grievance against the road.

WORK OF NEGRO FIENDS.

Akron, Ohio, Woman Assaulted and Beaten and the House Fired to Hide the Crime.

AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 14.—Three negroes, two men and a woman, called at the house of Saloonist George Woehlhueter, in the very heart of the city, early yesterday and demanded breakfast. Mrs. Woehlhueter was alone. Badly frightened she prepared the meal. Later the men returned to the house, broke in the street door, and going to Mrs. Woehlhueter's room beat her senseless and assaulted her. She was bound and gagged and thrown into the cellar. Carpets and bed clothing were saturated with oil and the house fired. Except for timely discovery of the flames, all trace of the crime would have been obliterated. Mrs. Woehlhueter's condition is critical. Police and citizens are searching for the villains.

VINCENNES, Ind., Sept. 14.—A jury in the Willis murder case was impaneled at noon yesterday. In his opening statement for the defense John E. The taking of testimony was begun, but nothing not already known of the terrible affair was brought out.

NO CLUE TO ROBBERS
WHO HIT THE BANK

POLICE AT FAULT AT ROSSVILLE, ILL.

The Bank Not Seriously Crippled by the Loss—No Clue Found to the Conklin Mystery—General News of the Northwest—County Officials All Found Short.

ROSSVILLE, Ill., Sept. 14.—Nothing has been seen or heard of the mysterious stranger, who is supposed to have robbed the Citizens' bank here Wednesday of $8,586, since he disappeared over the railway embankment of the eastern limits of the town. The bank officials have given up all hope of ever seeing their cash, though they intend to make a vigorous effort to capture the thief. Owing to the fact that he took all the currency the bank was compelled to close its doors for business yesterday. President Campbell went to Danville to arrange for obtaining a fresh supply. He returned late in the evening and said his mission had been successful.

It is the belief of William Graham, the night watchman, there were two men concerned in the robbery. He says that at 1 o'clock on the morning of the day of the robbery he chased two men out of the alley back of the bank.

NO CLEW IN THE DREAM.

Information as to Dr. Conklin's Came From Psychic Sources.

CASSOPOLIS, Mich., Sept. 14.—The letter written by Dr. J. A. Kimmell of Chicago to Dr. Conklin's wife, saying her husband was held for ransom by George Lennox, resulted in Sheriff Coulter of this city at once going to Chicago. He found Dr. Kimmell, who told him Mrs. Kimmell was a medium and through her he had found the whereabouts of Dr. Conklin. Kimmell said a man named Lennox was holding Conklin near Cassopolis. There is no such person known in this part of the country. Coulter was somewhat indignant, as Kimmell had written his letter as though stating positive facts. Kimmell said he had absolute faith in his wife's statement, as she had been successful in tracing several criminals. Mrs. Conklin places considerable credence in Dr. Kimmell's statements. It is understood a Chicago detective has the case in charge.

STILL BELIEVE IN HIM.

Firemen Listen to Debs and Give Him a Triumphant Vindication.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 14.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen held brief sessions yesterday in order to give the committee a chance to wrestle with the various subjects in the reports submitted to the convention. Resolutions indorsing certain questions affecting labor now before the New York constitutional convention were adopted. At the afternoon session Eugene V. Debs made his explanation of his report and talked for three hours on his connection with the brotherhood and in explanation of his connection with the strike. Things that were not before clear to the firemen were made satisfactory and the speaker was triumphantly vindicated. To-night, unless summoned to Chicago, he will address a meeting in the Opera house on certain phases of the strike.

"WILLIE IS A LIAR" IS MR. OWENS IDEAAWFUL LANGUAGE OF THOSE KENTUCKYANS.

They Are as Careless in Their References to One Another As Breckinridge Was About Concerning His Young Lady Friends—A Hot Congressional Fight.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 14.—Owens denies Breckinridge's charges of immorality and gambling and calls Willie a "liar." The greatest sensation of the campaign was sprung last night by Col. Breckinridge. In a statement which he has given out he says: "I propose to show Owens in his true light. He has been a constant, open and notorious gambler in Louisville, Chicago and elsewhere; while himself perfectly sober he played with young Kentuckians who were intoxicated at the time they lost their money. After the Chicago convention he remained in Chicago, engaged in this vocation, and during the World's Fair he was actively engaged in its prosecution." The card has fallen like a bombshell in the Owens camp, as their strongest argument in favor of their candidate was the alleged purity of his private life. Unless the charge against Owens is at once refuted his chances for the nomination seem at an end.

Liquor Banished From Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 14.—Official returns of the Arkansas state election held Sept. 3 have been received from about sixty counties. The returns indicate the majority of Clark (dem.) will be about 55,000. One of the surprising features of the election was the vote on the license question, over half of the counties having gone dry. According to unofficial reports it is probable four or five more counties will be added to the list. The returns also show eight populists and two republicans have been elected to the house of representatives and one republican to the senate.

SOMETHING ABOUT COL. LAWLER

The Successful Rockford Veteran Was Born in Liverpool—Looked Like Logan.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 14.—Col. Thos. G. Lawler of Rockford, Ill., was yesterday elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, by a majority of eleven votes over Col. L. N. Walker of Indianapolis. Major A. P. Burchfield of Pittsburgh, and Charles H. Shute of New Orleans, were chosen respectively senior and junior vice commanders.

Col. Thomas G. Lawler was born in Liverpool about fifty years ago. He came to this country when he was 10 years old, and was 17 when the war began. His army service began in April, 1861, when he made three months' contract to fight for the Stars and Stripes in the Nineteenth Illinois Infantry. September 17 of the same year he re-enlisted for three years as a private in company E of the Nineteenth, with which brave regiment he participated in all the fire and fust which the army of the Cumberland was fated to pass through. He was honorably discharged Sept. 17, 1864, his rank at that time being sergeant. On receiving his discharge he returned to Rockford, where he has ever since made his home and where his record as a citizen has ever remained as free from blemish as was his record as a soldier in the field.

He was in charge of the Rockford Bolt company for a time after his return, but later on he managed the planing mill owned by his father-in-law, Joseph Rodd. Subsequently he engaged in the lumber business, in which he has always retained an interest and to which he actively returned after twelve years of able service as postmaster at Rockford.

Col. Lawler was among the early members of post 124 of the Grand Army of the Republic, which was formed in 1866, and helped to escort Gen. John A. Logan when the general delivered an address here about that time. Just here it may be mentioned the marked resemblance in personal appearance between Gen. Logan and Col. Lawler has often been referred to by those who have seen and known both of the men. In sterling mental and social traits the two men were, also, remarkably alike. The possession of such personal qualities by Col. Lawler explains why such of his friends as ex-Gov. Rich placed their names at the head of the call which asked permission to head the '94 ticket with the colonel's name, and, also, why Department Commander Blodgett and all the State Grand Army officers as well as many scores of the prominent veterans of Illinois have added their names to the call.

Colonel Lawler was chosen commander of the Rockford post when, from the death of various other posts, the Nevius became No. 1. To the colonel's strong personality is due the fact that this post has always flourished in the matter of membership, and to his steadfastness and enthusiasm it largely owes its foremost place in the Grand Army in which Illinois enjoys the front rank.

The full ticket elected is as follows: Commander-in-chief, Thomas G. Lawler, Illinois; senior vice-commander-in-chief, A. P. Burchfield, Pennsylvania; junior vice-commander-in-chief, Charles H. Shupe, Louisiana; surgeon-general-in-chief, O. H. Weeks, Ohio; chaplain-in-chief, T. H. Haggerty, Missouri.

The committee on pensions made a report which was unanimously adopted. The committee expressed the opinion that there was still just cause for complaint on the rules of the pension department, which are unfavorable to the applicant and result in unjust discrimination, and that doubts were decided unfavorably to the claimant when they might have been decided in his favor under a more liberal construction.

The committee urges that order No. 229, from the department of the interior, department of pensions, is especially obnoxious as establishing needless requirements in the preparation of testimony and should be modified to provide that all evidence shall be examined. The report charges that, although seventeen years elapsed between the Mexican war and the war for the Union, yet the amount paid on Mexican pensions was increasing, while the amount paid to Union soldiers was diminishing.

The new commander-in-chief issued his first orders last night, appointing Comrade C. C. Jones of Rockford, Ill., adjutant-general, and Comrade J. N. Burst of Sycamore, Ill., quartermaster-general, and establishing headquarters at Rockford, Ill.

Among the resolutions adopted was one condemning the alleged discharge of Union veterans from the government service at Washington.

Illinois captured the presidency of the Woman's Relief Corps by the election of Mrs. Emma R. Wallace of Chicago. Emma S. Parker of Missouri was nominated for senior vice-president, but was defeated by Helen S. Morrison of Smithport, Pa. Lizzie R. Herrick of the Washington and Alaska department was elected national junior vice-president, and Armilla Cheny was honored for the fifth time by the treasurer'ship. S. Agnes Parker was chosen chaplain-in-chief.

There was little excitement at the Daughters of Veterans' convention. Ellen M. Walker of Worcester, Mass., was elected president.

Do Animals Love Fun?

There seems no reason to doubt it. Monkeys are full of frolic for its own sake, and enjoy themselves most of all when playing mischievous jokes. A terrier performed his tricks so consciously that when no one praised it for them, it used to become quite sulky. A flock of geese have been known to cause a number of pigs to run the gauntlet between them, merely to hear the squealing of the porkers as they were bit at by the birds. There was a soldier's horse that was wont to be fastened by a river's bank, and the creature had the ill habit of kicking at passing men, in order to make them fall into the water. The jack-daw will watch boys at their games with evident appreciation of the fun, and the amount of roguishness in kittens is perfectly notorious.

1321—Dante degli Alighieri, Italian poet, died; born 1265.

1547—Jan Van Olden Barneveldt, Dutch statesman and martyr, born; beheaded May 13, 1619.

1742—James Wilson, "signer" for Pennsylvania and afterward member of the continental congress and judge of the United States supreme court, born near St. Andrew's, Scotland; died 1798.

1807—Fulton first ascended the Hudson by steam.

1851—James Fenimore Cooper, writer of popular Indian romances and of the first history of the United States navy, died at Cooperstown, N. Y.; born 1789.

1852—The Duke of Wellington died at Walmer castle, England; born in Ireland 1769.

1862—Battles at the passes of South Mountain, Md., between the armies of McClellan and Lee; first important engagement north of the Potomac.

1891—Train on the New York Central railroad ran from New York to Buffalo, 436½ miles, in 426 minutes.

1893—Brazilian insurgent ships opened fire on government forts at Rio Janeiro.

It seems to have been overlooked, that in his letter to his "great and good friend," President Dole, Mr. Cleveland neglected to express his good wishes for the republic of Hawaii, although he did for Mr. Dole personally. Perhaps that's why Lil. still thinks she's going to be restored.

The window glass workers of the eastern district have accepted a cut in their wages. It was that or no work. Now let some democrat go among these men and tell them that the new tariff is bettering the condition of American workingmen.

It took the Louisiana sugar planters a long time to find out that the republican party was the one to which they naturally belonged. They are welcome to the party, but their tardiness makes any prodigal son business out of the question.

Speaker Crisp declaring for the free coinage of silver and Secretary Hoke Smith defending the silver policy of Mr. Cleveland from the same platform and to the same audience are interesting features of the democratic campaign in Georgia.

Leading democrats continue to ease their consciences by abusing Senator Gorman. Some day Gorman will talk back; then somebody will know just how somebody else felt when Gorman made the senate speech.

There has been renewed activity in just one industry. The excuse machines of the democratic congressmen are running twenty-four hours a day, and the market for excuses doesn't seem to be very good either.

"As goes Maine so goes the union." That has always been the saying, and the 40,000 republican plurality this year, makes it look as if the Pine Tree state were still a good prophet.

Ex-Postmaster General Wanamaker knows how to work the democratic press for free advertising for his Philadelphia store, and he is doing it.

A few more explanations as to the $60,000 that they tried to steal on the roster job will soon be expected from the democratic state officers.

Perhaps it is the absence of peacock feathers and yellow jackets that has enabled the Japanese to get the best of the war up to date.

Two confessions a day will be Hon. W. C. Breckinridge's programme for the remainder of the campaign.

Democrats speak pityingly of Governor Peck, as the man who didn't know enough to let go.

Speaker Crisp says the democratic congress "kept the faith." Yes, with the sugar trust.

MINERS FIGHT IN STREETS.

Talk About a Strike Precipitates a Serious Brawl.

PANA, Ill., Sept. 14.—For several days there has been considerable quiet talk on the streets here about another strike of miners. Last evening this talk resulted in a serious fight between union and non-union miners on the most prominent business street in the city in which two union miners were dangerously wounded. The names of the injured men are Thomas Tennant and Michael Murphy. The right side of the former's head was beaten into a jelly with a revolver. The latter was so badly hurt in the same manner that he had to be taken home in a cab. One of the non-unionist, was hit by a unionist bystander, until an officer arrived and took him to jail. The other non-unionist was shot at by the officer. The non-unionists came here from Tennessee. They are brothers, named Holloway, and worked in the mines during the late strike and delighted in calling themselves "the Tennessee scabs." For doing so they were attacked by the unionists.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN BRIEF FORM.

By Running Your Eye Down This Column You Find Out What Is Happening In All Parts Of The Bower City—Short Supper-Time Songs.

WILL BROWN, who is a delegate from Janesville to the fourth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen which is now in session at Harrisburg, Pa., sends back the program of the public exercises that were held in the Grand Opera house, September 10. Governor Patterson, Mayor Zrby and District Attorney Delwiler spoke as did also Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor; F. P. Sargent, president of the firemen, and Chief Clark, of the order of construction.

MISS E. L. WILLIAMS enrolled several scholars during the fair. Her display of type writers and the mode of imparting a thorough business education to another, was the best shown. Miss Williams never allows a scholar to leave her school unless thoroughly qualified for business. That is why her scholars get positions first. Business houses want employees with such training as only Miss Williams can give.

AN old and true saying, "de longest pole gets de persimon," and quite as true the lowest price draws the trade: in proof the shoe store of Brown Bros. & Lincoln is enjoying a patronage unprecedented in the ten years' history of this successful firm. Square dealing, a large stock and low prices have placed these people on the front seat.

PEACHES are rising. The stock received by us this morning are very fine, but we had to pay more. Monday they will be at least ten cents a basket higher. We received 200 baskets of fine Michigan peaches this morning. Better get a basket as Monday we cannot sell as cheap. Sam Goldfarb.

THE street cleaning brigade was out on West Milwaukee, South River and South Main streets this morning. The edict had gone forth that hereafter the property owners or occupants of the buildings must scrape up the rubbish and dirt into convenient piles, after which the street commissioner is to take care of the removal.

CONTRACTOR M. H. CURTIS is tearing up that portion of West Milwaukee street he has contracted to pave. There is considerable quantities of stone gutter pavement to remove, besides the regular cutting down of the street grade to make room for the cedar blocks.

THE Andrae bicycle has again won fame. This time it took first money over all competitors at the Rock county fair. J. Shuler, the agent for this wheel at No. 5 Court street, is much elated over the contest. The Andrae is undoubtedly the best wheel made.

OWING to the many other attractions last evening, the dance at Crystal Springs has been postponed until Saturday evening, September 15th. Boat leaves at 8 o'clock. If you have an invitation "come."

TWO hundred baskets of Michigan peaches received this morning at Goldfarb's, 6 South Main street. We had to pay much more. Monday we will not be able to buy for the amount we are selling at today. Sam Goldfarb.

PEACHES are advancing in price very rapidly. Better get some before Monday, as you will then pay one-third more. We received one hundred and fifty baskets this morning. Sam Goldfarb.

WE have taken great care in selecting school shoes for children and are ready to show them with something good. Every pair warranted. Call and see us. Lloyd & Son 57 W. Milwaukee St.

THE Shaw piano has again proven its value above all others. Yesterday The Fair Association attached a blue ribbon to it at our stall. That is to represent first prize. S. C. Burnham & Co.

IT is easy to print "Celebrated" on a card and hang it over a piano, but far better to have a piano like the Shaw that has the qualities that make it "Matchless" wherever placed.

SEVERAL blue ribbons could be seen flying from the buggies and carriages of the Janesville Carriage Works yesterday. They must have taken several first premiums.

SCHOOL commences Monday. Go to Weisend's, opposite postoffice, to-morrow, and buy your boys a suit. You can save one dollar on each suit, during his special sale.

DR. CHITTENDEN says "of all the buggies I ever had the one purchased from the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co. is, to my mind, the easiest vehicle I ever rode in."

R. F. HORN wishes to notify his milk customers that he was taken suddenly sick yesterday. He hopes to be able to attend to business again soon.

W. W. HEAFFORD, district passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, left his autograph on the register of the Grand Hotel this morning.

A nice display of clothing would have been very appropriate at the fair. T. J. Ziegler informs us that next season he will make a great spread.

New line of teeks, four in hands, etc., for ladies wear in Ziegler's

They come in all the new shapes and shades. Very pretty, just the thing for fall.

MISSERS LONG and Hodson of the Linn Street Green house received four first premiums out of five in class fifty-five for design work, general display, cut flowers, and flowers in bloom, judged by Mr. Whitnall, the leading florist in Milwaukee, at the Rock County Fair. This speaks very well indeed, for these ladies, as they had a most excellent display and they deserve this reward.

THE ninth annual ball of Rock River Lodge No. 210 Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was given last night and was very successful. The floor was crowded, Tuckwood's band furnished the music and supper was served at Tuckwood's restaurant. It was 3 o'clock when the "Home Sweet Home" waltz announced the conclusion of festivities.

EZRA KENDALL was funny as ever in "A Pair of Kids" last night. Janesville play-goers have seen the piece several times but they gave evidence of thorough enjoyment, being especially appreciative of Kendall's drolleries and the graceful work of Jennie Dunn.

MRS. HENRY GROVE is very dangerously ill at the home of her son, W. H. Grove, 205 Pearl street. Mrs. Grove is suffering from heart trouble and dropsy, and there is little hope that she will long survive.

MEMBERS and friends of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Benevolent society danced for sweet charity's sake at the armory last night. The net proceeds to be donated to the northern fire sufferers.

SCHOOL begins next Monday, yet there are quite a number of people who are impatient to learn the number of school children in the city. Can anybody tell?

MISS ETHEL BROWN, who has been in the city visiting her cousin, Miss Genevieve Rich, left this morning for her home at East Randolph, New York.

OF course S. C. Burnham & Co. took the first premium on their exhibit of Shaw pianos. It is one thing to claim everything, but another thing to get it.

SHOE hospital, scientific treatment of all diseases of the shoe. Prompt service, good work and prices right. Brown Bros. & Lincoln, Proprietors.

THE Wisconsin Carriage Top Co. has an elegant display of vehicles at the fair. This firm is getting to the front as leaders in this line of trade.

ABOUT the first thing people ask when arriving in town is—"Where is Kimball's furniture store?" I hear he is selling very cheap.

JERSEY Lily flour has the run in Janesville at present. Best ever in the market. Special prices in five sack lots. Dunn Bros.

EVERY boy and man in Rock county should call and see that Pickwick clothing, while here to attend the fair. T. J. Ziegler.

REMEMBER we will move into the Sutherland block November 1, and we want to move as little as possible. Bort, Bailey & Co.

MRS. J. JONES, of Orfordville, returned home this morning after a brief visit with Mrs. M. Dunlap, on West Pleasant street.

GENT's new style of fell neckwear now here, the finest yet, also the latest shapes in boys and men's caps. T. J. Ziegler.

ALL stand, banquet, library and bracket lamps, lanterns, and silk shades, one fifth off at Wheelock's removal sale.

THE Shaw came out victorious without the aid of a professional, hired for the occasion. S. C. Burnham & Co.

WE have some bargains in boys shoes. Good wear for little money. Lloyd & Son, 57 W. Milwaukee street.

IT does not take long for the public to learn that we are not in the furniture trust. Frank D. Kimball.

PRIZES FOR BANDS GIVEN OUT TODAY

MILTON BOYS CARRY OFF $100
IN CASH.

Andrew Barlass the Most Popular Farmer on the Grounds and Miss Nellie Gately the Most Popular School Teacher—Mayor Heddles Passes as a Beauty.

TWO farm teams munched hay from the ends of a lumber wagon that stood under the wire at the fair grounds' track this morning and two young men hustled around them. Superintendent "Willie" Paul and Judges Robert Bordon and David McLay kept an eye on them and at the word both young men started to hit their teams. It was the "farmer wagon race." The contestants were James Little and Joseph Fisher and each had to hitch and harness his own team, walk the team to the quarter post and trot back. Little had a "fire department" rig on his horses and hitched up in 50 seconds thereby getting a lead that Fisher couldn't overcome. The prizes were $5 for first and $3 for second.

ALL the contestants backed out on the stone drawing race. The prize was an Elgin watch offered by C. K. Miltimore and the conditions were that the team drawing a load of stone (about one-third cord) one mile in the quickest time and with the least urging, should get the prize. Teams were to be not under 1,400 pound horses, and to be owned and driven by a farmer of Rock county, and there were to be three or more contestants. When they looked at the pile of stone on the wagon, they all took water and the load was taken back to town.

Andrew Barlass Ahead.

For the most popular farmer, the total number of votes cast was 7580, Andrew Barlass of Emerald Grove, being ahead of all competitors by 370 votes, thus securing the watch. He was followed closely by J. G. Carr of Milton; J. E. Gleason of La Prairie; John Little, of Janesville, and a large number of scattering votes.

For the most popular school teacher, Nellie Gately of Janesville, got 200 votes; Lottie Rotherham got 180 votes; Ella McArthur of Bradford, got 120 votes; Alice Wiggins of Janesville, got 100 votes, and there were a large number of scattering votes all over southern Wisconsin. Miss Nellie Gately takes the toilet case.

Mayor Heddles of Edgerton, was declared to be the best looking mayor in Rock county. As said before the silver medal contest was won by Miss Theresa Haviland.

Miss Anna C. Hinty gets the new bonnet, having worked for John Berback for twenty-four years.

Noah Jones of Shopiere gets a suit of clothes donated by Frank H. Baack for bringing the largest family.

Miss Grace Bladen and Miss Gibbons were a tie for the gold watch for piano playing and D. W. Kolle decided it by giving each a watch of the same value. The two watches to be the same value of the one originally offered.

Miss Etta Pond received the lounge offered by W. H. Ashcraft for the best lemon pie. There were thirty-five entries. A. J. Roberts got a scholarship valued at forty dollars, offered by Miss Williams to the boy or girl under twenty years of age, who made the best exhibit of poultry.

Prizes for Musical Men.

Prizes in the band contest were awarded as follows:

First prize, drum major, Evansville, elegant baton. Second prize, drum major, Edgerton, gold medal.

First prize, snare drummer, Evansville, fine snare drum. Second prize, no competition.

First prize, gold watch, awarded to Delavan band. Cornet clear in tone, execution fair; instrument in good tune. Lower tone good, upper tones, room for improvement. Second prize, gold seal ring, awarded to Milton Junction band. Judges admit the difference in the two soloists was slight, although of the opinion the first prize belongs to the Delavan performer, his tone and touch being somewhat superior.

First band prize, $100, awarded to Milton Junction band. Harmony excellent; piano and forte passages well rendered. The basses and clarionets particularly good. Baritone performance good tone and touch; the performance of this band showed good attention to practice.

Second prize, $50, Evansville band. The judges are pleased to recognize this band for their efforts, which shows skill and practice. The master piece selected was not adapted for the occasion; a different selection would perhaps have showed their skill as musicians more fully. Uniform and general appearance, first class; well drilled in marching; cornets somewhat too harsh, otherwise well mastered. The judges bespeak for this band a good future.

Third prize, $35, Delavan band. This band is worthy of mention; most of the performance was well rendered; some of the instruments not in good tune. Piano and forte passages not rendered with proper care. Cornets worthy of particular mention; the basses fair. This band with practice should in our judgment take a leading place in future competitions.

Edgerton Band—This band was deficient in numbers, thereby being unable to harmonize. Their performance was fair, although little attention was paid to piano forte parts. We are glad however to give them special mention as showing skill in some directions. The report of the judges was signed by John Thoroughgood, Walter Helms and Alfred W. Kneff.

He Wasn't a Jay.

In front of a gaudy canvas at the fair grounds stood a man with a deep bass voice.

"Ain't dere any sporty guys in de aggregation?" he yelled as he poised three bare balls in his hand. A young man whom the jeering small boys had christened "Reuben" looked around to see what would step forward but nothing came.

"Take a flyer at Corbett, Jackson and de cats," continued the Barker. "Tree t'rows fer a nickel wid a positive guarantee, widout any josh about it, dat yer cop out de weeds. Trep t'rows fer a nickel and every time you go against one of de pugs or hit a cat you get tree smokes. We has our segars made in de best factory in de country and dere can't no guy rap on dem either. See?"

Reuben saw.

"Gimme three balls," he remarked as he paid his nickel.

"Here's a rice puddin'" remarked the gentleman in front of the cannon, as he turned to his assistant. "Watch me pluck him good and plenty."

Reuben planted his foot firmly and swung his arm about his head.

"Windmills," remarked a small boy. "See 'em rubber-neck his arm," said another, but Reuben didn't stop. He let the ball fly and Corbett's head jumped over the fence. Another ball knocked a cat out of the window and a third blacked Jackson's eye.

Stone Throwing His Best Hold.

"What's your position in the Center-ville nine?" asked the professor.

"I ain't no ball player," Reuben said modestly, "but out on the farm the fences are down and we've got seventeen yearling steers."

"Oh!" remarked the show man, "no wonder you can't get a wrong steer."

"Wouldn't some of these haymow guys fist you?" he inquired of his assistant, as Reuben departed loaded down with pure Wisconsin cigars.

"Shine or polish?" enquired a youngster with a black box in his hand as he eyed Reuben's shoes.

"Will the folks call it a polish?" Reuben answered as he flicked the dust from his brogans with a handkerchief and let the boot black see his face, in the cowhides. "Guess ye can't do no better than that, can you?"

"Here's a dead sure thing" remarked a man with a violent necktie, as he juggled several wooden rings on a stick, "every cane you ring you get and every ring you get you can pay for. Three throws for a nickel with the guarantee thrown in. Come on boys, this is no queer game, its on de square."

"That's right," remarked Reuben as he noticed that the canes were set up on a square board and the enclosure around the stand was a parallelogram.

Saw the Game Was All Right.

"Want to go against it?" inquired the gentleman with the tie.

"It wouldn't hold me up," replied Reuben, testing the rope.

"Get out one of those pumpkin tags," remarked the manager in an undertone. "Here is the greenest one yet."

"I guess we can 'hold you up,'" he said, turning to the youth, and he handed out three rings. Reuben poised one and flipped it toward the canes. It fell over one with a ten dollar bill on it.

"Guess you had better gimme that before you forget it" he remarked and the fakir handed it over. Two more throws netted two more canes and the fakir was astonished.

"What three ring circus do you travel with asked Reuben as he refused to sell any more rings.

"I ain't no circus man; what made you think I was?"

"Talk about yer fawny jays with moss on 'em was the remark that was addressed to the assistant, "this one just ceps the coin over any layout that I ever went against and I began scalin' suckers for a livin' a good many years ago."

"You ought to see Lafe Skinner pitch 'em," said Reuben. "That's all him and me did last winter when they barred us out o' singin' school."

"Oh, go 'ell!" remarked the fakir savagely, and Reuben moved on.

Had the "Cinch" Himself.

"I may have a jay in my hair and perhaps I'm a jay," mused Reuben as he sauntered toward the poultry house, "but when a lot o' jays with their skin games pull my wing feathers, it won't be because one of them fakir fellers didn't go broke and have to work for us all winter while I got the cinch on him and made him give the whole snap away or go without pie. I ain't no tapioca for none of those cheap guys I guess," and he swung aboard a street car.

TRICKS AND TRAITS.

Kentucky brightens the fishing season with this weird tale: "Mahaj" W. C. May, of White Oak, while fishing in a creek a short time ago ran his hand under a log, when it accidentally found its way into the mouth of a large pike. The "mahaj" succeeded in pulling the fish ashore and extricating his arm, which was severely chewed. The pike, in accordance with the story, was a large one, weighing twenty-three pounds.

An accidental juxtaposition of facts resulted in the appearance of a laughable paragraph in a recent issue of the Brooklyn Times, under the heading of church news: "Rev. Dr. Crowder of Rockville Centre Methodist Episcopal church will exchange pulpits to-morrow morning with Rev. Mr. Hudson of the Baptist church. In the evening Dr. Crowder will occupy his own pulpit, taking for his subject, 'Behold, I Have Played the Fool.'"

In some private theatricals in India a fugitive from justice was supposed to escape from his pursuers by concealing himself under a table. The table was small, while the fugitive was somewhat lengthy. The commander of the pursuing party rushed on the stage and fell over the legs of the man he was searching for. Picking himself up and ludicrously rubbing his shins, he caused roars of laughter by exclaiming in true dramatic style: "Ha! the villain has eluded us again!"

A farmer in Bristol having been a tiller of the soil for thirty-two years, might be expected to know a thing or two by this time, but he remains as unsophisticated in the ways of up-to-date rogues as if he lived beyond the bounds of civilization. Chance brought a copy of a New York journal under his eye recently, and he eagerly noted the tempting offer of an advertiser to disclose, upon receipt of $10, the secret of "How to keep butter from getting strong." Visions of largely increased profits from his dairy prompted him to mail the money, for which he has received the advice: "Eat it."

Beech Trees.

The common notion that beech trees are not struck by lightning so often as other trees is supported by experiments made by Jonesco Dimittie, who passed the spark of a Holtz machine through blocks of different kinds of wood. The spark passed through oak after one or two revolutions of the machine, while five were required for black poplar and willow, and from twelve to twenty for beech. It was found that the difference was due to the richness in fat. Pine, which is rich in fat in winter but poor in summer, showed a resistance corresponding to the time at which it was selected for the test.

HOPE FOR THE HAIRLESS.

Professor Birkholz, of Chicago, Gives Hope to Those Afflicted with Baldness—A "No Cure, No Pay" Treatment.

Professor G. Birkholz, of Chicago, the eminent German specialist, who for years has devoted his time and talent to the study of the hair follicles, and who has evolved the most successful treatment for baldness the world has ever known. He will carefully examine each case and candidly inform the inquirer whether his baldness can be cured and the hair be restored. These examinations are made without charge. In all cases where there are any hair follicles remaining undestroyed by age or disease the professor will undertake a cure, and if he does not effect a restoration of the hair he will ask no pay.

The remedy is an imported one, and the treatment given by the professor is his own, and cures where all others fail. If your case has been pronounced incurable do not take it as a final answer until you have seen Professor Birkholz and received his opinion.

Many persons have small bald spots through the hair. These increase in area and in time produce baldness. In such cases the hair follicles need nourishment. Prompt treatment will bring them into activity and restore the hair. The success that has attended Professor Birkholz everywhere enables him to give a positive opinion in each case presented to him. Those who are bald or are threatened with baldness should not delay treatment, but call upon the professor at once. 1011 Masonic Temple Chicago.

Hand this notice to any first-class drug store and he will get the remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

CHILDREN'S FASHIONS.

Something Pleasant About the Styles of Many Years Ago.

For the past two years little girls' fashions, like those of their mothers, have shown an approach to those of 40 years ago, but the approach has not been near enough, fortunately, to warrant the odious pantaleon in thrusting itself into the eye of the public. So far only the more attractive features of that earlier period have been revived—short stockings, short sleeves and sunbonnets. There is something very pleasing about the baby waists, full skirts and ankle ties that our mothers wore when they were children, a simple and infantile look that the clothing of the little girl of today seldom has. Too often she seems like a young lady cut down in a costume the elaboration of which rivals that of the attire of her grown sister.

The dimity and lawn gowns in which little people have been keeping so fresh and cool this summer must soon give place to heavier clothing. Gingham, pique and duck, such as little boys' suits are often made of, can be worn far into the fall, but muslins are on the eve of disappearing until another year. In woolen goods, cloaking and china silk, red bids fair to be as popular as ever, while golden brown is also much liked. A fall coat for a girl from 8 to 12 years old is of this shade, with turnover collar and cuffs of darker velvet. The coat, which is half length, is fitted behind, but has a straight double breasted front, closed with two rows of buttons. The seams are double stitched, and stitched pockets are sewed on outside.

A thin cloth suit for a very little boy is made with three box plaits back and front from neck to hem and is confined at the waist by a leather belt. The puffed sleeves have a deep cloth cuff, while a broad white linen collar covers the shoulders.

The little girl's gown illustrated is of china silk accented plaided. It is shirred at the neck and shoulders to form a puffed yoke, which is outlined by a gulfure collar. The full elbow sleeves are gathered into a ribbon band, and ribbons trim the shoulders and cross the bodice of the frock.

CARE OF THE HAIR.

Dressings That Are Neither Untidy Nor Harmful.

The use of oils on the hair has gone out of fashion, but there are many persons to whom something of this sort is almost a necessity. The hair becomes so dry that its beauty is gone, and in addition it is so badly nourished that it loses its strength and luster. In such cases a little fine oil is the proper remedy. Those who have very dry and rough hair, especially if subject to pain and feverishness in the head, will do well to try some softening application, at least as an experiment.

It is said that an ounce of glycerin to a pint of rosewater, with two or three grains of quinine, thoroughly shaken together, makes an excellent hair tonic. The trifling of glycerin gives it softness and moisture and a very pretty gloss. Care must be taken, however, to keep the head away from dust as much as possible, for the glycerin will hold it and soon make the most beautiful braid dull and grimy looking. It is a question indeed if dryness is not preferable to the moisture given by most dressings, at least in the city, where the atmosphere is full of minute cinders, and where frequent washings are necessary in order to keep the hair clean, even when no sticky or oily hairdressing is used. Hair should be neat to the touch as well as to the eye, and excessive dryness would seem to indicate the need of a tonic for the general health rather than local treatments. Quassia water is considered by some persons to be beneficial to the hair, and it has at least the negative virtues of being neither untidy nor harmful.

The illustration shows an evening coiffure in which the hair is lightly waved and drawn to the crown of the head, where it is coiled. A few light locks fall over the forehead.

To Obtain a Perfect Figure.

Few women know how to lace a corset so as to obtain a perfect figure. The idea of a corset is support and not a harness. A big corset that squeezes in and compresses the flesh gives a false impression of the French ideal. A characteristic of the true French figure is its soft, graceful lines. The waist is as tightly laced as possible, but there is little corset below and less above the waist line, and so the beautiful lines of the female form are given freedom.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Rubber gloves are a great saving of time and labor over the hands, as they keep them free from any grease and dirt likely to be absorbed when doing housework.

PAPER POLES.

They Are Lighter, Stiffer and Stronger Than Wooden Ones.

One of the latest uses to which paper has been turned is the making of telegraph poles. The paper pulp employed is saturated with a mixture of borax, tallow and other substances. The mass is cast in a mold with a cone in the center, forming a hollow rod of any desired length, the cross pieces being held by wooden keys driven in on either side of the pole. The paper poles are said to be lighter and stronger than those of wood and to be unaffected by the many weather influences which shorten the life of a wooden pole.

It is doubtful, however, whether the paper pole will come to be anything like a rival to the iron pole, which is now high in favor for the carrying of all kinds of wire lines. The value of iron telegraph poles has been well tested under the most trying conditions on the lines between Europe and India, and again across arid stretches of country in Australia.

Insects that eat out the core of everything in the shape of wood, leaving the shell only, and bird borers that drill holes in the toughest of trees, let the iron poles pass, and even wandering tribes cannot chop it up for fire-wood, although down in Australia they have not yet quite got over their trick of making arrow heads of the insulators it carries.

The Fondest Hour Memory Recalls

The question naturally suggests itself, which is "the fondest hour memory recalls?" Has the reader, whose attention we hope to engage, ever had a controversy with his stomach on the subject of dyspepsia. After convincing proofs that the digestive organ has got the upper hand, has a wise resort been made to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters? If so, the "fondest hour" has been recalled by memory in the shape of a lasting resumption of the power of digest, assimilate thoroughly and eat heartily without fear of being uncomfortable afterward. When the dinner bell, that "tocsin of the soul," strikes agreeably on the ear, the auditor then greets it as a welcome sound and hastens to obey its summons. The Bitters, so renowned as a stomachic, overcome, too, malarial, bilious and kidney trouble, and remedy nervousness, rheumatism and sick headache.

PICKWICK CLOTHING

SELLS WELL.

Probably no man in the country is harder to fit than Grover Cleveland. Any one can tell this by looking at these pictures. We have it upon pretty good authority that he is wearing Pickwick Clothing. This fall, whenever a merchant tailor fails to fit the president and he places his confidence in you can rest assured that the clothing is correct.

Hundreds of farmers have been in our place during the week, many of them very odd-shaped. They said they had been to all the other stores and could find nothing to suit them. We showed our Pickwicks, they fit; a sale made at once.
We do not charge any more for this clothing than inferior stock and they fit just as well as if your measure had been taken. Such high art in

Ready-to-Wear-Clothing

has never been seen outside the Pickwicks. Our ready to wears now ranks with the merchant tailor in quality and fit but beats them 1-3 in price. Do you want to pay from $10 to $25 to have some merchant tailors name under the collar?
